How is RQ different?

- Using red, green, and blue as guiding colors simplifies how individuals recall and share their Motivational Value Systems—People, Performance, and Process.
- Advances in technology have made SDI results more accessible by integrating them into commonly used workplace applications, keeping the concepts top-of-mind and fostering a shared language.
- Relationship Intelligence (RQ) encourages individuals to assume positive intent when others act differently from what they might expect or how they might act in certain situations. This approach, along with emotional agility, intentional interactions, and navigating conflicting perceptions, enhances team performance by leveraging diversity.
- Insights can be applied to daily interactions with colleagues, clients and personal relationships to enhance your approach and elevate effectiveness.
